PROJECTS

QuickPath — AI-Powered Indoor Navigation System — Final Year Project

Tech: Python · Flask · Computer Vision · OpenCV · QR Codes · Dijkstra's Algorithm · REST API

- Architected an AI-powered indoor navigation system using Computer Vision and QR code detection to deliver real-time, turn-by-turn directional guidance inside large buildings.
- Implemented Dijkstra's Algorithm for optimal path computation, dynamically calculating the shortest navigable route between any two indoor nodes.
- Built a Flask-based REST API backend integrated with a responsive frontend, enabling seamless cross-platform access.

Fake News Detection — ML & NLP Web Application

Tech: Python · Scikit-learn · NLP · Flask · TF-IDF · Machine Learning · REST API

- Developed an ML and NLP-powered web application classifying news articles as real or fake using TF-IDF vectorization and supervised classification models.
- Integrated a Flask REST API with an intuitive frontend interface enabling real-time news authenticity predictions.
- Achieved model accuracy improvements through iterative feature engineering and hyperparameter tuning.

AgriLink — Smart Agriculture Platform

Tech: Python · Flask · MySQL · REST API · HTML5 · CSS3 · JavaScript

- Designed and developed a full stack smart agriculture marketplace connecting farmers, buyers, and suppliers on a unified digital platform.
- Built RESTful API endpoints for product listing, order management, and real-time stakeholder communication.
- Implemented a MySQL relational database schema supporting multi-role user management and transactional data integrity.

RESEARCH & CONFERENCES

Data Visualization of the Observable Universe

August 2024

National Level Academic Conference · Nehru Institute of Engineering & Technology

- Presented original research demonstrating applied proficiency in Python scientific computing and data storytelling, recognized for technical innovation among a multi-institutional audience.

Energy Consumption in Quantum Computing

March 2025

National Level Academic Conference · Nehru Institute of Engineering & Technology

- Conducted a rigorous analytical study on energy efficiency challenges in quantum computing architectures; synthesized academic literature and primary data into a peer-reviewed presentation that stimulated meaningful scholarly discourse.
